

Ronnie Cal

Ronnie Call was born on January 11, 1974 in Mt. Clemmons, Michigan as Ronald James Call. Ronnie was relocated with his mother and father to the Smokey Mountains of North Carolina in 1979, where he attended school. At the age of 15 he moved out on his own, working two jobs and still continuing his education through Tuscola high school.

Growing up, Ronnie came from a musically talented family of singers and musicians, his stepfather and and uncles bred a love of playing guitar into Ronnie, but it wasn't until later in his life he took a job at a dinner theatre, learning how to operate the sound and light system hat he took a serious interest in the music business and began doing shows on the side with a well known Elvis impressionist named Roger Perry who also worked at the theatre as a performer.

Soon, Ronnie was opening shows all across the states with Roger. Ronnie spent the next few years trying to make a name for his self while assisting Roger during his shows, eventually parting ways but maintaining their friendship to this day.

Moving on, Ronnie partnered with another friend forming the duo Country Soul, together they became a small town name, and they performed on CMT's CAN YOU DUET? in 2009 and their segment aired on CMT, they also had a commercial air on GAC with an original jingle written by the duo. The partnership lasted just over a year before Ronnie struck out on his own to pursue his dream of recording and performing his original songs.
